

OPPORTUNITIES FOR DIVISIONAL DIRECTOR AND ASSISTANT DIVISIONAL DIRECTOR ROLES

Indecon is seeking outstanding senior candidates with 10+ years' experience in economic research, consultancy, or the public policy to fill vacancies at Divisional Director and Assistant Divisional Director level in the practice. The Divisional Director / Assistant Divisional Director role is a very senior managerial and leadership position within the practice and the ideal candidate would have significant experience in managing complex research or policy projects, as well as managing teams. Candidates would ideally have experience of advising at the most senior levels in the public or private sector. We are particularly interested in hearing from candidates who understand the value of quantitative modelling, econometrics, data analysis, impact evaluation, cost-benefit and cost-effectiveness analyses. Candidates with experience in developing effective strategic plans would also be of value.

Requirements

Indecon is seeking individuals who are educated to master's degree or PhD level with a qualification in Economics, Finance, or a related discipline. The ideal candidate is likely to have an exemplary academic record with qualifications from a leading Irish or international university and will have 10 or more years of relevant experience of working in economics or an economics-related role in consulting or in the public sector, a research organisation, or university. It is expected that the candidate will have experience in managing teams and delivering complex projects.

Candidates will be expected to be able to demonstrate the following skills and expertise:

- Experience in engaging with stakeholders at a very senior level
- Experience in managing teams of economists/analysts in delivering complex projects
- Strong written communication skills with demonstrable experience in communicating complex economic concepts to a non-technical audience
- Strong analytical and problem-solving skill
- Project management experience
- Experience in leading stakeholder engagement processes
- Ability to work effectively in a team
- Comfortable working in an environment with client-driven deadlines for deliverables

The ideal candidate will also be able to demonstrate skills and experience with one or more of the following:

- Policy evaluations
- Strategic planning
- Economic cost-benefit analyses
- Economic impact assessments
- Econometric modelling
- Policy evaluation
- Business case development
- Data analytics and large dataset modelling
- Spreadsheet modelling
- QGIS and/or related spatial modelling
- Finance and financial modelling
- Regulatory economics
- Due diligence

Summary of the Role

The Divisional Director / Assistant Divisional Director role is a senior managerial and leadership role within the practice. As a Divisional Director / Assistant Divisional Director, successful applicants will be expected to work effectively with both colleagues and clients, using their knowledge of economics to address real world problems. The successful applicant will also be expected to manage teams of economists/analysts in delivering projects and will engage with clients and stakeholders at a very senior level.

The Divisional Director / Assistant Divisional Director role presents a unique opportunity for the successful candidate to play a senior role in the completion of policy relevant research across a range of areas, as well as providing advice to commercial or public sector clients both in Ireland and internationally.

The role of Divisional Director / Assistant Divisional Director offers an opportunity for the successful candidates to work in an environment that offers variety in the nature of work as well as a unique opportunity to contribute at the highest level to public policy and businesses. We also offer all employees an exceptionally supportive and flexible working environment.

Indecon will provide the successful applicant a competitive salary and working conditions. There may also be potential for candidates to join Indecon on secondment or for a fixed period in order to gain private sector experience.

How to Apply

If you are interested in the senior role of Divisional Director / Assistant Divisional Director please contact Alan Gray, Managing Partner, or William Batt, Senior Partner, Indecon International Consultancy Group for a preliminary private and confidential discussion. Alan's email is awgray@indecon.ie, and William's e-mail is whbatt@indecon.ie.

When contacting us you should include:

- A cover letter indicating your economic interests and motivation for working at Indecon.
- A curriculum vitae:
 - Describing your employment record;
 - Describing your academic qualifications;
 - Details of the current position and salary.

Thank you for considering Indecon and we look forward to hearing from you.